Hungry today? Start here.

Small steps. One at a time. You are not alone.

TODAY

1. Call 211. It is free and private. Say: "I need food." No answer? Search 211.org.

2. Find a free food pantry. Type your ZIP code at feedingamerica.org/find-your-local-foodbank

3. Apply for SNAP (food benefits) on your state's website. Search: your state + SNAP apply. If you have almost no money, ask about expedited (faster) help.

4. Sell one thing you do not need, like on Facebook Marketplace. Meet in a public place.

NEXT WEEK

Sign up with a staffing agency (a company that finds you jobs) or a delivery app. Background checks can take days. Count gas and fees first.

NEXT MONTH

Pick one skill to learn. Try ten minutes a day.

Watch out: Never pay to get a job. Skip payday loans.

Want company on the next step?
Join our free group, Small Steps Big Concepts. Scan the code or go to skool.com/little-level-ups-5574

In danger? Call 911. Mental health crisis? Call or text 988.
Rules differ by state. I'm David, and I'm not a financial advisor.